5-year anniversary of the Big Data partnership of Consist and Splunk

Kiel – What began as a pioneering achievement has become a veritable success story over the past five years. After Consist was the first IT service provider to deploy Splunk on the DACH market, San Francisco's innovative big data platform quickly established itself as the market-leading solution for IT operations analytics.

Since the end of 2012, both cooperation partners have been committed to using a technological solution that can completely map data infrastructures and is flexibly adaptable to evolving business processes. Splunk technology enables organizations to monitor, search, analyze, visualize, and translate both real-time and historical machine data. This reduces IT operating costs, avoids security risks and increases the transparency of operational processes.

Splunk's tremendous power in uninterrupted data generation and analysis not only convinced Consist. Splunk Inc. also honored the work of Consist's highly qualified specialists with the "Partner of the Year 2013" award. Milestones of the cooperation are summarized in a small special brochure and can be viewed at www.consist.de/splunk. Others will follow in the next few years.
