Consist team wins Splunk Award

Kiel IT specialists from Consist Software Solutions GmbH won the "BOSS of the SOC" award at this year's Splunk.conf in Washington, D.C.

Kiel – Washington D. C. - During the four-day conference, which ends today, users from all over the world present the latest in processing and analyzing large amounts of data. Consist has not only been involved with an expert workshop, but also with a team that participated in the competition for the use of the market-leading analysis platform Splunk in a security operations center.

More than 100 teams of experts took part in the one-day competition in which real-life safety problems had to be solved. The participants passed through several security scenarios where they had to demonstrate their knowledge of enterprise security, the Splunk Adaptive Response framework and external data sources to answer questions about security intrusions in the scenarios - including data exfiltration, ransomware, lateral movement, and more.

Yesterday Consist was announced as the winner. The company specialised in data analytics and security is pleased with this confirmation of the know-how of its consultants.
